COUNTY RANKED IN TOP 10 IN DIGITAL SURVEY

Montgomery County, Virginia – Montgomery County has been ranked among the top 10 winners in the 2014 Digital Counties Survey by the Center for Digital Government (CDG) and the National Association of Counties (NACo). The annual survey recognizes leading examples of counties using technology to improve services and boost efficiencies.

The survey, conducted by the CDG and Digital Communities program, in partnership with NACo, identifies best technology practices among U.S. counties. The County ranked 10 among winners in the 150,000 population or less category.

“This award reflects the efforts of IT and County departments in modernizing our technology to provide greater efficiency, and more on-line business functions and information,” said Bill Brown, chair of the Board of Supervisors.

“Congratulations to this year’s winners for their dedication to public service and forging partnerships that proactively address rapidly changing citizen demands and expectations,” said Center for Digital Government Executive Director Todd Sander. “Their ability to be continually innovative in an ever changing technology landscape is admirable and commendable.”

“Counties across the country are using technology to enhance services, maximize efficiency and save money,” said NACo Executive Director Matthew D. Chase. “The Digital Counties Survey recognizes counties’ best practices and effective uses of technology to better serve their communities.”

The Center for Digital Government is a national research and advisory institute focused on technology policy and best practices in state and local government. CDG is a division of e.Republic, the nation’s only media and research company focused exclusively on state and local government and education.

*The National Association of Counties (NACo) is the only national organization that represents county governments in the United States. Founded in 1935, NACo assists America’s 3,069 counties in pursuing excellence in public service to produce healthy, vibrant, safe and resilient counties. NACo promotes sound public policies, fosters county solutions and innovation, promotes intergovernmental and public-private collaboration and provides value-added services to save counties and taxpayers money.
